Christian Homeschool Connect

Welcome to the October edition of our Christian Homeschool Connect Newsletter! As the crisp autumn air settles in and the days grow shorter, we're excited to share all the upcoming activities, tips, and resources to inspire our homeschooling journeys this month. Whether it's exploring fall nature walks, diving into fall-themed literature, or planning for hands-on science experiments, October offers a fresh opportunity for creative learning. We hope this newsletter brings a sense of community and spark to your homeschooling adventures. Let's make this month as memorable as the season itself!

Embracing the Journey.....Encouragement for your month

Did You Know?....

- National Fire Safety Day, observed on October 9th, offers a great opportunity for homeschoolers to engage in important lessons about fire prevention and safety. Create an interactive and educational experience by discussing essential topics such as how fires start, fire safety rules, and the importance of having a family escape plan. You can practice fire drills together, learn about fire extinguishers, and even write thank you notes for your local fire station.
- Family Heritage Month, celebrated in October, is a wonderful time for homeschoolers to explore their roots and celebrate the unique cultures and traditions that shape their families. We can create family trees, interview grandparents, cook traditional recipes, or research their ancestry together. Sharing family stories or making a scrapbook can help children gain a deeper appreciation for their family roots.

- Starting October 2025, we will be moving to Signal Group Chat for our registered member text communications and reminders.
 - Signal will help keep everyone connected, informed, and facilitates building a closer-knit community.
 - There will be individual chats for the Interest Groups to keep communications clear.

Have feedback on a meeting or have a question?

- To help us better serve our CHC families and the homeschool community, we encourage you to provide us feedback.
- All feedback will be discussed at our monthly board meetings and addressed (as needed) at that time.

Monthly FAQ Highlight

What is the heart behind CHC providing childcare?

- Our Thursday afternoon meetups are designed to encourage parents and their K5–12th grade students in both fellowship and discipleship. Each activity is intentionally geared toward school-aged children and integrates a biblical worldview into lessons, discussions, and projects. We believe this honors both Titus 2:4-5 (discipleship and encouragement for parents) and Proverbs 22:6 (training up children in the way they should go).
- To make this possible, parents stay with their K5–12th grade students in our designated area, where they can lend a hand as needed and enjoy connecting with other parents while their children learn and engage together.
- At the same time, we want to bless families by caring for our youngest children in a dedicated (and free!) childcare program for ages 0–4. This program, led by approved helpers who have completed background checks and training, provides a safe and nurturing environment just for little ones. (The only exception is nursing babies up to 6 months, who are welcome to stay with their moms.)
